We Understand Regional Airlines

About Fredheim International

We specialise in aviation and offer consulting services to clients in the aviation industry. We have vast experience of helping regional airlines and support the owners, the board and the management at all levels in their decision making process and daily work. Since 1985 assignments have covered all areas of aviation including:

- Support with start-up, and feasibility plans
- Management assessment and efficiency programmes
- Strategy development
- Projects within commercial, operational, fleet and asset, and logistics management
- Top management assistance in connection with alliances-, partnerships- and labour negotiations
- Interim management

Through extensive experience at CEO, COO and VP levels, we have proven in-depth knowledge and broad understanding of the industry. Together with our network of consultants we offer expertise in all areas of aviation. Each client is unique and every assignment is special. A close cooperation with the client is essential for our commitment to provide appropriate and tailored solutions and advice to management and boards of directors.

Assessment

We offer in-depth assessment and analysis of the whole organisation or of separate functions and departments. To support the work we have developed our own assessment system. The assessment is performed in close cooperation with the management and the organisation. A comprehensive report highlighting strengths and opportunities as well as weaknesses and threats will be presented.

Efficiency Programmes

Based on the result of in-depth assessment of the entire company, individual functions or departments, we present a detailed efficiency plan. The plan will focus on profitability and include objectives, strategies and detailed actions. It will include revenue improvements, cost reductions and higher efficiency leading to improved profitability and customer focus. The efficiency plan is developed in close working cooperation with the management and the organisation. To facilitate implementation of the efficiency program, we offer support with project management.

Co-operation with partners

We offer to identify, evaluate and recommend different alternatives and potential partners. We can assist and participate in negotiations with airlines or alliances. We have extensive own experience and knowledge in global airline cooperation in many fields such as mergers, joint ventures, partnerships in addition to code share arrangements and Interline agreements.

Commercial Management

We provide knowledge and expertise in commercial matters and help to develop or refocus business strategies to improve the competitive position. We also assist in the specific areas of:

- Scheduling and network planning
- Pricing, revenue, yield management and web competitiveness
- Marketing strategy and programs
- Brand, image and corporate identity
- Distribution and sales strategies
- Air cargo services
- Maintenance services
- Ground services

Operational Management

We provide all services in the area of operational matters of airline management, e.g.

- Flight and cabin operations
- Technical and ground operations
- Safety & Security
- Traffic execution

Fleet Management

We offer a range of services in the area of fleet management including assessment of present fleet, studies of potential aircraft, purchase and lease of aircraft and JAR-OPS requirements.

Interim Management

We provide interim management with qualified and experienced managers for managerial positions at all levels. We offer complete airline managements and individual department managers in an executive or operational function. For operational management positions we can offer nominated post holders with approved JAR qualifications. An interim assignment can be short or long term.

Start-up Support

To start a new airline in today's environment represents both opportunities and challenges. We have experience from starting airlines and may provide advice on

- In-depth evaluation of the project
- Required financing
- Business plan
- Commercial matters
- Operational matters
- Management support
